Job Application for Graduate Web Developer

To whom it may concern,

About Me

I'm finishing my undergraduate degree in Artificial Intelligence and Computer Science at Edinburgh University. I've been a competitive swimmer for over a decade and have swam at a national level for 6 years – I have also represented Edinburgh University nationally and Scottish university students internationally. I'm a qualified lifeguard, certified in lifesaving, first-aid and the external defibrillator (AED).

Why Me?

I'm very keen to enter the web development / software engineering field when I graduate. I believe that my experience of software development, in and out of university, make me a great candidate for this role and I would love to be considered to be a part of the Cyberhawk team. I have been involved in multiple projects throughout university in both small and large teams. I'm always up for a challenge and any opportunity to diversify my array of skills.

I look forward to hearing back.

Sincerely,
Chris Perceval-Maxwell
